ARC RECORDING ARTIST CHRISTOPHER BURNETT TO RECORD VINYL IN 2018

KANSAS CITY - Artists Recording Collective (ARC) recording artist, Christopher Burnett has announced that his working Christopher Burnett Quintet (CbQ) comprised of Kansas City-based professional musicians will be going into the studio to record in the fall of 2018. He said this new recording project initiative corresponds with the ensemble's monthly first Saturday residency at Black Dolphin.

"Christopher Burnett Quintet is a working band with a set lineup of great musicians," Burnett said. "The monthly opportunity we have to perform at Black Dolphin in Kansas City allows the organic development of our group as an ensemble and will allow that musical personality to present itself performing the specific selections contained in the repertoire I've chosen."

Mr. Burnett said the opportunity to perform collectively as an ensemble each month will result in the quintet fully developing its own unique musical personality by October or November. He said his plan is to record about a dozen of his original compositions and 40 of his most favorite jazz masterworks.

"We're going to record with Bill Crain at BRC Audio and release the music on the ARC label in the available digital formats, but not manufacture any CDs," Burnett said. "All indications are that CDs are a dead technology. However, we will manufacture a limited edition run of heavy-vinyl LP records for audiophiles who'd like to have a physical product."

Mr. Burnett also said the music packaging will include professional album liner notes, digital booklet, superb photography and professional graphic design. He expects to produce about ten LP albums of music out of the effort and a goal of the project is to document this music with his working quintet.

"I'm quite simply at a point in my career where it is important to record and document the work I am involved in as both, a woodwind artist and a composer," Burnett said. "I have been fortunate to subsidize a professional career in music performance and recording for my entire adult life."

Christopher Burnett has performed professionally around the world with military bands, recorded noteworthy albums as a leader, taught at the college-level and co-founded a significant independent recording label. CbQ is an eclectic instrumental music ensemble comprised of accomplished professional artists. Repertoire includes Burnett original compositions and select jazz masterworks.
